

New gold mining application: Muckleford

Kalamazoo Resources has applied for an exploration licence across the southern section of the highly prospective Muckleford Fault, south of Maldon.

This application, known as the South Muckleford Gold Project, covers the highly prospective regional Muckleford Fault and adjacent historical workings to the west, as well as the southern strike extent of the Union Hill Gold Mine.

Kalamazoo is a Western Australian company that is now acquiring and exploring a portfolio of high-quality Victorian gold exploration projects.

The company's Junior Exploration Manager Luke Mortimer said Kalamazoo still had a couple of projects in Western Australia but the company's focus had shifted to the Victorian Goldfields.

Mr Mortimer said the majority of the South Muckleford application was located on Crown Land and away from populated areas.

He said the area had a lot of potential...